EVERYTHING FLOATS. EVERYTHING APPEARS EASY.

“ [...] The finish was the first thing to strike us. Our test model was delivered in a Macassar veneer. It’s beautiful; it leaves you wanting to just caress the surface. The shimmering matt mid-range/bass diaphragms, which consist of ceramic/aluminum sandwich cones, are also integrated in a visually elegant manner.”

“The very first track we listen to (“Swimming Pool”) is brought to the center of our attention. Everything floats. The Magnat speaker basks in this noble sound and everything appears easy. What’s more: Everything takes off. The choirs in the background, the psychedelics. A wonderful delight for the ears. It’s simply amazing how the Signature 905 created a multi-channel effect. It’s as if we were dealing with 5.1 speakers. We swim in the warm water and let ourselves be wooed.”

Conclusion:

“A clear tip: If you have just over €2000 spare, you should definitely pay a visit to your local retailer and experience this gem for yourself. The extreme transparency in the treble frequencies may not be to everyone’s liking, but it makes sense depending on the style of music.”
